This experimental studio explores the creative potential of integrating computing technologies into the architectural design process. The project selected for this experiment was the controversial redevelopment of the Northgate/Thornton Creek area.

Digital Design Studio Fall '00

Visit our website at http://courses.washington.edu/studio00

contact: ellen.do@u.washington.edu

Brochure design by Ken Camarata

University of Washington  Department of Architecture  Box 355720 Seattle, WA 98195-5720
Use the black lines that extend from the image as guides when cropping the page.